

For Immediate Release – a timely - great feature story and interview opportunity.

Permission granted to download and play the song freely. Excerpts of the lyrics may also be used with attribution please. A special media download page is set up at:

<http://www.directcontactpr.com/files/files/ifeelcountrytrevor.mp3>

Jevon Rudder is available for interview and on-air performances by arrangement please. Photographs are also available upon request.

Media kit, review copies and interviews available upon request. MP3 of the song is available upon request by email or you can use the web site link and right click on the clip of their choice and save as an mp3 to your computer. This clip may be freely played. We appreciate a short verbal attribution to Jevon Rudder.

CONTACT: Jevon Rudder 647-242-0512 jevonrudder@rogers.com or just hit reply for fast action.

Country Singer Soldier Jevon Rudder Back from Summer of Military commitment – Hits the Road Again with New Song ‘I Feel Country’

Lieutenant Jevon Rudder, an officer in the Canadian Military Reserve, is an unusually diverse man. He is also a professional entertainer – a country rock musician, father of two, military officer, and real Urban Cowboy.

He’s now back home having just completing 3 months of advanced military training as part of his role in the reserves / homeland security. Fresh as a daisy he will be, hitting the road and ready for action with his new song “I Feel Country”, a rocking high energy ballad as solid anything presently coming out of modern day Nashville, and the best material this reliable singer has ever produced.

A masterful writer of songs, Jevon Rudder hits the right notes with country rock that swells with vibrant energy and soul that captures the pride, hard work, and deep commitment of the soldiers and dedicated families all over North America.

The heart-pounding and foot stomping "I Feel Country" contains sharp, poignant lyrics such as

A Cup of Joe, at the crack of Dawn, and it's off to work all day.
Punch that clock, and bust our butts, and the Man takes half our pay.

.....

I don't know all the rules, there ain't nothin',
You can do, to change my country attitude.
I feel country.

.....

It don't matter if you're Black, White, Red or Brown, Country music is our drug.

"I Feel Country" is a spit-and-polish-right-on-the-money portrait of a real life modern man and one of the strongest country rock musical testaments to the character and dedication of the men who serve to protect our freedom in the world.

Jevon has an innovative and inclusive country sound. He crosses over on the edge of hot, new country and pop/AC. His soulful voice blends beautifully with the underlying tones of pedal steel guitar. And his lyrics express the depth, and richness of his soul.

Proud father of two children Jevon lives with his wife in Toronto, Ontario Canada. He has continued to play his music while maintaining his obligations to the Army and family. His latest CD album, "The Good, The Bad and the Lucky", is planned for February 2010 release.

“I tend to write my best songs during the middle of combat training. For some reason the chaos of battle simulations seem to stimulate my creative juices – talk about bad timing...” he said.

In August 2008 he recorded a country music song tribute dedicated to the soldiers who fight and die to protect the freedoms we all enjoy. It is titled “Honor Thy Fallen”.

Here are the lyrics to Honor Thy Fallen.

*You were the strongest one I ever knew
Someone who always stood for right and truth
Inside that uniform you gave it all
We know that sometimes even the brave will fall*

*So shoulder to shoulder we say goodbye
And promise to carry your banner high*

*Though every storm that blows, the world will know
Even though you’re gone, your spirit will live on and on
We light a flame for you, keep it burning strong for you
Stand proud and tall
Honor Thy Fallen*

*So much trial and trouble everywhere
We thank God for every heart that cares
Inside that uniform you gave it all
They know sometimes even the brave will fall.*

Public access: “Honor They Fallen” can be listened to:

<http://www.myspace.com/jevonrudder>

Permission granted to download and play the songs freely. Excerpts of the lyrics may also be used with attribution please. A special media download page is set up at:

<http://www.directcontactpr.com/files/files/ifeelcountrytrevor.mp3>

Jevon Rudder is available for interview and on-air performances by arrangement please. Photographs are also available upon request.

Media kit, review copies and interviews available upon request. MP3 of the song is available upon request by email or you can use the web site link and right click on the clip of their choice and save as an mp3 to your computer. This clip may be freely played. We appreciate a short verbal attribution to Jevon Rudder.

CONTACT: Jevon Rudder 647-242-0512 jevonrudder@rogers.com or just hit reply for fast action.